

COURSE COMMITMENT

Course Title: L3 Film & TV
Your Course Leader: Jim West

vJan24

Our commitment to you

We train the next generation of creatives to shape the future of the media industry. We provide students with a platform to refine their creative voices and develop practical skills through hands-on experience, critical thinking, and collaboration.

Our education offer

Intent

To build skills and knowledge through a sequenced curriculum, focussed on, delivering underpinning knowledge, practical workshops and industry aligned opportunities for students.

Implementation

Through an industry workflow of research, planning, production and post production, our students develop knowledge and skills measured against a series of activities, tasks and assignments. Students develop through a cycle of experimentation, feedback and self-reflection, which enables them to progress and build their abilities and confidence.

Impact

Through the course, our students will have the knowledge, skills and a professional portfolio which will open opportunities to collaborate and network with other aspiring creatives as well as progress into higher education.

Expected behaviours and attitudes

Intent

To create an environment for students to become positive, resilient and solutions focussed individuals. We want our students to demonstrate excellent studentship so they are ready to work at a professional level in terms of attitudes, attendance, organisation and respect for others.

Implementation

We encourage a positive and orderly atmosphere in sessions, agreeing to enforce the same series of industry standards and protocols that will aid students to work at a professional level. We monitor areas of studentship such as attendance and submissions and where required, guiding you to make improvements.

Impact

Our students are ready to progress into their next steps with a clear sense of professionalism, industry expectations and respect for others.

Your personal and professional development

Intent

The Film and TV course provides an encouraging environment, which supports the growth of our students in their self-confidence, awareness of strengths and weaknesses and developing character traits such as: positivity, resilience and ambition.

Implementation

Through our activities, assignments, work experience opportunities and 'personal development and employability' classes, we provide you with a full programme of learning which is aimed at addressing specific soft skills and areas for development, so you are able to progress to your next steps and develop your career.

Impact

Your portfolio and the work experience opportunities you undertake provide you with a clear set of industry ready skills, as well as the knowledge and career development plan needed to make informed choices about your next steps.