Dear Miss Abernethy

Can you tell me where the photographs in the book are now; are they at "The Kennels" or at Hampstead? I had a letter from Capt. Holmes a few days ago and he seems to want them. I saw them last at "The Kennels" and with them was the list we made out of the photos which were to go on the different pages. I would much like to go through the photos again and to have another look at the list before sending them on to Capt. Holmes — would this be possible? I phoned to Mrs de Laszlo today to see whether I could find out from her about the photos but heard that she had gone to Scotland.

Sincerely yours

A. L. Baldry
