

WOLMER WOOD,

MARLOW COMMON,

MARLOW, BUCKS.

July 24th 1935.

My dear Philip

Your letter was most welcome; I am delighted to have news of you and to hear that you and Lucy are well — it is wonderful how you both manage to keep fit while you live such strenuous lives. I am grieved though to have to say that I cannot manage the week-end trip to town — very grieved because I much want to see you. But on Saturday we are going to a festive gathering at a house near here, on Sunday we are expecting some visitors from town and on Monday we are dining with some neighbours; a quite unusual series of engagements. But would it be possible for me to come to lunch on Monday? I would come up by the train which gets me to Paddington at 12.12, so I could be with you before 1, and if I caught the 5.45 train back I should be home well in time for my dinner engagement. I hope you will not think it cheek on my part to suggest this but I do want to see you before you go abroad and if you are not booked up on Monday this would be a possible way of meeting and would give me a chance of seeing the work you have been doing lately.

I hope you will have a fine day tomorrow for the garden party; it looks tonight as if the weather would be all right.

but I think thunderstorms are possible; it has been rather warm here the last few days but I am enjoying it.

Our love to you both

always yours
