Meltwater
Outside Insight

Publication: Tygerburger Bellville - Main
Title: Bellvlle South joins hands in unity
Publish date: 07 Oct 2026
Page: 5
Reach: 19261
AVE: R 42865,63
Author: TARRYN-LEIGH SOLOMONS

Bellville South joins hands in unity

TARRYN-LEIGH SOLOMONS

Residents, community organisations and safety partners came together along Kasselsvlei Road during Heritage Week for a human chain organised by the Bellville South Community Police Forum.

The event took place on 23 September, with participants meeting at the Bellville South Community Centre before lining the road.

Among those who took part were members of the police, security companies, UWC, Badisa and residents from across Bellville South.

The CPF said the event was about bringing people together and showing what can be achieved when the community works as one.

COMMUNITY ORGANISATIONS LINE KASSELSVLEI ROAD FOR HERITAGE WEEK

"Thank you for the great memories. What a lovely, memorable day united. Together we can do so much," the forum said afterwards.

The CPF also thanked UWC, Badisa, the police, security companies and the wider Bellville South community for supporting the day.

The Heritage Week initiative formed part of efforts to promote unity, respect and safer communities.

Participants gather outside the Bellville South Community Centre after taking part in the Heritage Week human chain along Kasselsvlei Road.

Participants link hands during the Bellville South community event, which drew residents, neighbourhood-watch members and other local partners.

Community members and safety partners stand side by side during the Bellville South Heritage Week initiative, aimed at promoting unity and safer neighbourhoods.

The human chain runs along Kasselsvlei Road as local residents and community safety structures join forces for the Heritage Week gathering.

www.meltwater.com/za | Cape Town: +27 21 838 5100 | Johannesburg: +27 11 028 2172 | Copyright © Meltwater News (Pty) Ltd.